

Sue Ann Young

I remember taking piano lessons from Pauline (Mrs. Snodgrass) in the 50's. She was always so calm and laid back even when I didn't practice very much. I was never very good at playing piano, but in the 80's I did teach first grade in a little Colorado school where I had to teach my own music. One time I accompanied my class on the piano at a school musical program, and when I looked down at my hands, they were shaking!!!

I am now retired after 31 years of teaching in Colorado, Wyoming, and Kansas, and am doing books in my son's orthodontist offices in the KC area.

I wish Pauline the very best for her 98th birthday!
